WSDOT Construction Update

I-90/Argonne to Sullivan (MP 287-292)-

Tomorrow (Saturday, December 6) crews will be working in the westbound lanes of I-90 performing some interim drainage work between the Pines Road Interchange and the Argonne Road Interchange. Westbound Interstate 90 will be reduced to one lane during this work. Westbound motorists should be alert and expect slow traffic, congestion, and possible delays.

Work should start at about 7:00 a.m. tomorrow and may go throughout the day.

The excessive water on the roadway as a result of today's rain is gathering on the inside shoulder and, at times, the water extends over into the westbound travel lanes. The contractor is planning to grind some temporary drainage channels to direct the water into the freeway median and reduce the ponding.
